Recent Updates

ICRA's Improved Vedanta Limited Long-term rating; short-term rating reaffirmed; ratings removed from watch with developing implications; Stable outlook assigned on long-term rating

Vedanta demerged into four independent entities. Vedanta's four demerged businesses will begin trading on June 15, completing a major corporate restructuring. The listings will enable market-driven price discovery, help unlock shareholder value and allow each standalone company to pursue sector-specific growth opportunities independently.

Reliance, Vedanta, Adani join India's drive to cut China rare earth dependence, sources say. Indian industrial groups Reliance, Vedanta and Adani have shown interest in developing facilities to process Andhra Pradesh state's significant reserves of increasingly important rare-earth minerals, according to two sources with knowledge of the matter.

Vedanta demerger: What changes for dividend payouts? analysts note that Vedanta's largest historical source of dividend income has not been aluminium but zinc, primarily through Hindustan Zinc, one of India's highest dividend-paying companies. Importantly, Hindustan Zinc, along with Zinc International and the base metals business, will remain within the residual Vedanta Ltd. According to Saurabh Jain, Head of Fundamental Research, SMC Global Securities, Vedanta's five-way demerger is expected to materially reshape the company's dividend profile.
